Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Thursday 28 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Rain, with sleet and snow in north, some heavy.

This Evening and Tonight:
Sleet and snow over many northern areas, some heavy snowfalls over higher parts of East Highland and the Northeast, but heavy rain over the east coast. Occasional rain in the south, some heavy. Wintry showers, clear spells in far north.

Friday:
Rain in the south, sleet and snow in the north, gradually easing, with clear colder conditions and ice in the evening..

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Mainly dry, sunny but cold with widespread frost. Scattering of wintry showers in north and east, perhaps pushing througt the central belt at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.